* SO WHATS THE CATCH? If this property is so great then why is it priced so low & why are there limited photos? Here's the bottom line. The sellers need to relocate fast. This has nothing to do with the storm and nothing to do with the property itself. The lack of photos is due to the moving process and amount of personal items throughout. More photos will be provided if it lasts that long. This home has been priced well Below market in order to attract both occupants and investors alike. The sellers have decided to take a loss in order to close this chapter and move on. The only question is, will their loss be your gain? Opportunities like this don't come along often. Call today to schedule your showing.
